James was predeceased by his mother Teresa Beaudry; father Victor Beaudry; siblings

Clayton, Darlene, Candace, and Carolyn. He is survived by his adoring children Charity Bitternose, Brittany Bitternose (Matthew), James Jr. and granddaughter Farrah; sister Patricia McNab; brothers Nathan, Bill, David Beaudry, and Robert Franklin; as well as numerous nieces and nephews who loved him dearly. Friends and family will have the opportunity to say farewell as a Wake will be held on Thursday, September 28, 2017 at 4:00 p.m. in the Piapot Community Hall, Piapot First Nation. Funeral Service will be held on Friday, September 29, 2017 at 10:00 a.m. in the Piapot Community Hall. The family would like to extend a special thanks to Regina General Hospital and staff for exceptional care. James had a great sense of humour and very close relationship with his siblings, the stories of how close they all were is such an amazing example for the younger generation to admire. His love for his children is what he will be remembered most for, always talking about them and their accomplishments, he was the proudest father. James made friends easily and was loved by many but it was the love that his children had for him that made him truly happy. James favourite saying was "I love you" life is too short so love one another now.

Messages of Condolence

I only met James Sr a few times, and he wasn't in great health, but I really could see how much he loved James Jr. And James Jr was always so excited to see his dad. When James was about 2 years old, he could already point out where his dad lived - as soon as we were even blocks away he would call out excitedly that we were near his dad's house! James Sr was so sweet to his son - his love was obvious. His son is going to miss him - but already looking forward to seeing him again some day! God bless all of you and show you His comfort.

My uncle James was always a happy guy had a smile on his face all the time, he also liked to joke around, I'm going to miss that the most about him, last time I seen him I had the chance to talk to him at Stacey's dinner last year at her house he talked to me about his little boy and that he like for me to meet him some time next time I was around I told I like to meet him someday and I hope I do get the chance to meet him he's a spitting image of my uncle and he also has his dad smile, I know my uncle loved his children dearly with all his heart and he was pround of them, I gave him a hug goodbye and I kiss him that day before I head back home. RIP uncle love always v.m.m

I met James almost five years ago when his son James jr was born. James was not able to look after his son at that time and our family was asked to care for his baby. What a blessing that has been to us. Not only to care for baby James, but to become part of his biological family as well. We could not have asked for a more wonderful parent to work with. We have always been a team. We got so much support from James Sr. and his daughters Charity and Brittany. We are going to miss James Sr. immensely. So thankful for the time he had with his son. They visited each other every week. It became a highlight of the week for both of them. And I already miss my coffee buddy. Until we meet again, James, your son will have wonderful memories of your times together

Uncle James. I will miss seeing you at our family dinners, seeing you light up when talking about your children, teasing you about any and everything, having you call me meh-nay, always asking about my little family and telling me how great they were. I will miss so many things about you and it's still so hard to think you are gone from this world. It's so true that we don't know what we got till it's gone and I must admit I'm taking your death hard and I'm sad. I grew up with you in my everyday life as a child and teenager, I may not always have agreed with you but I always respected and loved you. Selfishly I wanted another conversation, more time to just talk and listen. I know you went in Gods time and it's not for me to question so I will just say this. Thank you for being the coolest uncle and always making me feel loved and appreciated.
