I am so sorry to hear of Cynthia's passing. My condolences to her husband and son. She was a really sweet soul with such a loving heart. I got to know her as a teen when she came to live with us for a few years. We lost touch after she moved to Calgary and several times, I tried to locate her online to see if we could reconnect, but was never able to find her. I'm glad she found love, happiness and motherhood in Calgary, and after listening to the memorial service, I am not surprised to hear that she spread love all around. Her laugh was genuine and infectious. I wish we could have reconnected, but I will always have fond memories of her. I'm sure if I am really still and quiet, I'll be able to hear her laughter from above. Rest in peace, Cindy.
