Words will never be able to explain the impact you made on this community, and all the people around you. You were the big brother, and guardian to allot of people who didn't have someone to put in that position. Nobody who you have met will ever be the same, that I do know. We love you Big Dawg, Rest In Paradise

Rob, Primmer, Primeroast... My heart aches. I can't even behim to comprehend how you're gone. You were the secret hero. I know you laughed every time I told you that you saved my life that day. But the truth is you did, -!; I am so greatful I told you everything the last time we spoke. I'm glad you got to understand how I feel. Though I wish I could've had the chance to repay you. There aren't words to describe the emotions and impact both your life and loss have had on so many. You always knew just what to say to brighten mine and others days, gave the most amazing hugs and could make anyone feel like they were the only person in the room. You stood up for what was right and what you believed in, loved with all of your heart and protected those close to you. What a beautiful gift you gave all of those who crossed paths with you.. I am heartbroken that I won't ever get to cross paths with you again in this life, but I know that you are looking down shining your love on all of us. My love and strength goes out to your family and friends during this devastating time. Rest peacefully love.

There's not a day that goes by where I'm not thinking about you. It took a long time to accept, but I know your in a much better happier place my brother. You were so loved. When I read how many Peoples lives you've impacted, its pretty amazing.

You were such a good guy! Save me a spot..at thugs mansion! Love you!

— Maria

I remember many years ago having you so close in my life. You gave me support and friendship when I needed it most. I made you soft boiled eggs with little pieces of toast and hashbrowns because I thought you weren't eating enough. And you weren't hungry at all but you ate it because you knew it would shut me up but also because you knew it would make me happy. I never got the chance to say good bye and that kills me. I know you're resting in the best paradise that anyone could ever have because you deserve the best. Rob, you were, truly, honestly. One of the best people I was fortunate enough to meet. Anyone that was lucky enough to get to know the real you was given one of the best gifts they could ever receive in this life, because no one could love, respect, care and build a person the way Rob could.

— Miss Daisy

6 years after the fact brother... I'm so so sorry I just heard of your passing this morning.

you me and the boys grew up together pretty much you are a little crew were the first ones I met when I moved to bowness.... and always always you were kind and loving to me , had my back believed in me... it looked out for me even when I didn't need it or want it.

my favorite memory of you and I we were in our early twenties maybe late teens and we sat on the steep hillside heading up toward the hotels and restaurants by the ski hill it was midday and we decided that straight gin ..lol..three bottles in fact.. on a 30° day between you me and Hunter at the time we thought it was a good idea hahaha.

but one of the last things I remember is feeling sick and you looked at me and said we're going to get you home I'm the next thing I remember you were carrying me like a baby I had passed out.

you carried me like a baby all the way to 45th Street by the plaza in Bowness... where I lived with my mother and I remember waking up as he walked in the door and she was so thankful for you taking care of me that she began to cry and I woke up and you carried me all the way in to my bed put a blanket over me and said you're home fell you're good I'll see you tomorrow bro give me a kiss on my forehead.

you were walking Angel among us while you were here and now you've got your real wings brother.

I know you're looking down on all of us and watching it for us so I hope you get to here this message because I never got to tell you how much you really really mean to me bro.

a best friend and brother I never had I'll miss you always Rob. rest in peace keep those wings high and strong.

love always

little red
