I remember Margaret well from when I worked at the CIBC.

She always had a smile, time to talk, and an ability to laugh at herself. My favorite memory of that was a purchase she made at the local drugstore, when she got home she realized she bought an empty box. It had been the display box and was sold to her without the item inside. The funniest part of the story was how hard she laughed at herself.

May the memories you have give you comfort.
