Natalie Tkach

Who know what lies before us

We know not what waits

When will time take us?

Will it be soon or too late?

When we think of you..

We see a dazzling woman

Whose sparkle, charm and wit

Radiated a loving omen

that glowed, and stayed brightly lit.

You were a conqueror -

Who broke through ceilings and barriers,

And were an interesting believer

Who made lives fuller and merrier.

We had many wonderful years

Filled with your vivacity and inner blaze

That we will forever hold dear

As we journey through life's maze.

We have benefited from your legacy

Of a life filled with kindness and hope.

You stood above doubt and jealousy

No matter how slippery the slope.

You were many people in your life-

A stepmom, Grandma, and Great Grandmother;

and a businesswoman, friend and wife,

Who loved, and who was loved, as no other.

Although you departed too soon

you live in our hearts.

Your spirit flows among the stars and moon

So we are never very far apart.

Whether it is soon or late

Time decides when we'll pass.

We try to accept this fate

But we wish you were here... alas.
