Messages of Condolence

well, stan was a good person as you know he was my officer before he went to fire prevention, taught me a lot and made me a better person and firefighter i remember one of his boys bringing him to the retirees christmas dinner, and how happy he was just to be there i never knew about his service in ww2, but it seems like most of the veterans did not like to talk about it my best wishes to you all, he is in a place where all hero's go now!
