In 1959 Bert married Bea and went to work for Macleod’s department store, eventually taking on a management position. After moving his family several times throughout Saskatchewan Bert pursued some further education that allowed him to take on a position with the Bank of Montreal. This eventually allowed him to move his family to the ‘big city’ of Regina. In Regina he partnered with a bank client to start a Century 21 real estate office. which during the booming times gave him the opportunity to move again to the West and start a branch office. In late 70’s, early 80’s, Bert and his first wife started a new venture with Merle Norman Cosmetics. After Merle Norman, Bert ventured into many and varied Multi-level marketing experiences that took him around the world and allowed him to touch many people's lives. He made friends all over the world.

Bert was an accomplished salesman who enjoyed motivating people to succeed. He was a generous individual who loved to talk to people about multiple subjects and all the things he was passionate about, especially the world of entrepreneurial success available to everyone. He was a member of the Church and strongly believed in the values that represent the best of the faith. His faith was important to him and he was dedicated to praising God whenever he could, often saying "Getting better every day in, in every way with the grace of God.

Please accept our deepest sympathies at the loss of your father. We were friends and neighbours for many years, and spent many hours with him over the last six months. Although often in pain, he was always interesting and cheerful, a REAL GENTLEMAN.
We shall miss him and always remember him.
RIP, Bert.....
